The Howard Hughes Medical Institute announces the 1994 competitions for fellowship programs that support training in fundamental biological and biomedical research. Awards, based on international competitions, focus on research directed to understanding basic biological processes and disease mechanisms. Fellowships may be held at academic or not-for-profit research institutions.

Predoctoral Fellowships in Biological Sciences

Up to five years of support for full-time graduate study toward a Ph.D. degree in biostatistics, cell biology and regulation, epidemiology, genetics, immunology, neuroscience, or structural biology. Applicants must not have completed the first year of postbaccalaureate graduate study in biology. Application deadline: early November.

Postdoctoral Research Fellowships for Physicians

Three years of support for training in fundamental research subsequent to at least two years of postgraduate clinical training and no more than two years of postdoctoral research training. Application deadline: early January.

Research Training Fellowships for Medical Students

An opportunity for medical students in the United States to explore a burgeoning interest in fundamental research. Support is awarded for one year of full-time fundamental research in a laboratory at the student's medical school or another institution (except NIH). Application deadline: early December.

Research Scholars at the National Institutes of Health

Under this joint HHMI-NIH program, medical students in the United States spend an intensive year in research in the intramural program at the NIH in Bethesda, Maryland. Residence is provided at the Cloister on the NIH campus. Application deadline: early January.
